this man into the Presidency and engineered Hamilton and Massachusetts must bear the blame. The fact is, we have in this struggle between Northern and Southern ideas a Southerner: a man who cannot see the negro imperialist, who has the prejudice of the white race against him. We have got five months to work in.
There is a possibility that he, Abraham Lincoln, may be brought on to the right basis. He sent down Carl Schurz to examine into the States he has inaugurated.
The New York Herald says it was a wise thing. Well, of the North Carolina says nothing about who shall have a voice in framing a State Constitution. The writer which she aside a Constitution as much as the President has done makes the Constitution as Provisional Governor is. He has the power to put the whole document under his feet, and to make a new one, as much as to do what he has done. (over.)

laying thus a clear foundation to build on, the deep satisfying feeling of justice is on the side of the black man. The justice of the question is clearly his on the side of manhood. Every State which belonged to the

He advised the negro to support any government which recognized his equality before the law. In these forebodings, Mr. Foster had hope. He was the side of the Anti-Slavery party the whole energy of the North. We have on our side all the great, prominent, able Republicans. They all support our cause. All that remains for us is to go forward and reform that public sentiment in which we live.

Mr. Pillsbury then offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:
